The English Government proposes to purchase five-twenty bonds, send them to the Treasury to be redeemed, and then turn over the gold certificates in payment of the Geneva award.

The majority of the Finance Committee of the Cortes are in favor of abolishing the law granting pensions to members of the Cabinet, and placing them upon the same footing with other functionaries.

The Danbury News man, now in San Francisco, does not like the California style of making change, and asks if its customary there "to charge five cents commission for handling half a dollar."

The counties of Wapello and Marion, Iowa, have by unanimous vote of the Board of Supervisors, refused and repudiated their share of Congressman Warden's back pay, which he sought to unload upon their school fund.

The forest fires in Northern Michigan have been extinguished by soaking showers. Upwards of forty persons were burned to death and many drowned in the lake at Michigammi, while trying to escape from the flames. The sufferers are well cared for and supplies are pouring in from all quarters.

Some Germans of Chicago have issued a circular to their German friends requesting them not to patronize the dry goods house of Field, Leiter & Co., and why, do you suppose? Simply because several clerks in that house served on a jury which rendered a verdict against a German indicted for selling beer on Sunday!

The most plausible defense of Frank Walworth has its origin in the circumstance of his having been a law student. The tortuous windings, contradictions and endless technicalities of this majestic science gradually undermined his young intellect; and, two days before leaving Saratoga, while endeavoring to comprehend an opinion of the court of appeals, his mind utterly gave way, and he became a hopeless lunatic.

Miss Anna Dickinson, we learn from the Washington Chronicle, is much annoyed at the newspaper paragraphs uniting her to different parties and especially to a New York editor. We should think she would be; and it may be added that the paragraphs are an impertinence that should no longer be tolerated. In this connection we may be permitted to state that there is no truth, probably, in the rumor that Miss Dickinson will be shortly united to a Baltimore gentleman.—Rochester Democrat.

It now appears that Senators Chandler and Ferry, of Michigan, wrote a joint letter to Secretary Richardson, as long ago as last March, returning their share of the back pay steal. Being unwilling to gain what they voted against, they request that the same be applied toward the cancellation of any of the six per cent. interest bearing obligations of the nation, and lest such return should be distorted into a possible reflection upon the propriety of a dissimilar disposition by others, they asked that no publicity be given to the matter.

Early last month Henry M. Smith, Esq., managing editor of the Chicago Tribune, sent in his resignation, to take effect July 1st. His associates upon that paper were all exceedingly averse to his withdrawal, and have used every persuasion to induce him to remain; but all to no purpose, as he is positive in his intention to leave them. He has accepted the presidency of the new market company, which is to cover the entire block bounded by Fifth avenue, Franklin, Jackson and Quincy streets with the finest abattoir in the country, and leaves for Paris soon to study up the famous market system of that city.

Edicts continue to appear in the Pekin Gazette regarding the pilgrimage to the Imperial Tombs. The latest is a solemn edict banishing the Chief of the Eunuchs and discharging other officials, because they were hasty in handling the dishes at one or two stages. Fancy a European sovereign issuing an edict upon such a subject. The Gazette of the 14th of April mentions that the members of the Imperial Council had congratulated His Majesty on his birthday, wishing him 10,000 years of happiness. And the Gazette of the 15th, in strange contrast, contains an edict appointing certain officials to superintend the preparation of a mausoleum for himself and his consort. It is a Chinese custom to provide a coffin beforehand, and the Emperor seems to do so at once on his accession.

A NEW LONDON PAPER.—A London correspondent writes as follows: A rumor, which has for some time been floating about newspaper circles in London, begins to assume the semblance of fact. It is that Mr. James Gordon Bennett is making preparations to establish a daily journal which shall seek to become to London what the Herald is to New York. The story is that the editor of the new journal is to be Mr. Fitzgerald Stephens, who is to receive a salary of £5,000 a year; that the staff is to be made up of British and American journalists, and that the paper is to make its appearance on the first of January next. I am not in a position to say that the story is positively true, but I am assured that it is by those who ought to know, and in whom I have confidence. There is not the slightest reason why the enterprise should not be a brilliant success from the start. The stupidity of the London daily press is not so great as it was a few years since, an immense change for the better has occurred, even since 1870, but yet much remains to be done, and I know of no one who can show how this is to be done, and to do it, better than Mr. Bennett. If it be true that Mr. Stephens is to be the editor of the new paper, then it is true that Mr. Bennett has secured the most powerful journalistic writer in England. It is Mr. Stephens who has written those wonderful articles in the Pall Mall Gazette which, more than anything else, have given that journal the hold which it now has upon the public mind.

TOO GOOD FOR THIS WORLD.—The following literary curiosity appears in a Memphis, Tenn., paper; and as a specimen of "highfalutin" is so grand that the author might let himself out for a gasmeter or an assistant dictionary or spelling books for public schools.

Died, in this city, on the 22d ——, infant daughter of —— and ——, aged two months and five days. The shades of eternal night have clouded forever the infantile ——, who rose as a star and beamed lucently with a meteoric resplendency along the horizon of her parents, lightening their pathway with the sheen of hope.

A lovely gem of beauty gleaming brightly in their casket of jewels has her earthly lustre eclipsed to corruscate with renewed effulgence in the spirit world. A gentle rosebud, whose vernal freshness impregnated her parental heart with its fragrance of love blooming sweetly in the bouquet of flowers, that garlanded their happiness, has, by the blighting simas of disease, faded away, to bloom with more brilliant angelic hues in that land of perennial purity and bliss to which little children by divine behest are welcomed.

Prince Satsuma, of Japan, who resigned from the Annapolis Naval Academy a short time ago, owing to ill health, is now in New York suffering from a pulmonary complaint. He desires to return to Japan, but his physicians advise him not to undertake the journey.

A young matron of Detroit, aged 25, was married for the fifth time last week. Her former husbands were invited to attend the ceremony, but declined.

Serious apprehensions of more Apache difficulties are felt in Arizona. The only reservations that will keep those Indians quiet are those which are dug in the ground and measure three by six.

Sixteen thousand Texas cattle have used the triangulation signal pyramids of the Hayden Geographical and Geological Survey, set up in Colorado, as scratching posts during the present season.

Notwithstanding the raids of wolves and Indians on the stock ranches of Colorado, the shipment of cattle from that Territory to the East promises soon to become a feature of much importance.

The Presbytery of Oregon met at Olympia as announced (by the courtesy o. the pastor) in the Methodist Church on Thursday evening, June 26th, and was opened with a sermon by Rev. Theodore Crowl. Thereafter the Moderator called the Presbytery to order, and proceeded to the business on the docket.

A Denver chap, who had interviewed the "tiger" more frequently than he did the throne of grace, recently became converted by Hammond, and while exhorting his comrades to follow his example, said: "If you do not accept salvation now, it is not me that you are throwing off on; it is Christ you are 'bucking' against."

The Astorian says: "In accordance with previous arrangements the United States steam light-house tender Shubrick, with Captain Spotts, Superintendent of the 12th and 13th light-house districts, on board, came to Astoria on the 13th to meet Major H. M. Robert for conference on business connected with the light house department. After transacting this business the Shubrick returned to San Francisco, going by way of light-houses on Puget Sound."

The Olympia Tribune of Monday says: "Last evening while the Wright Bros., of the Cheap Cash Store, were in the Methodist Church enjoying the benefits of the dispensation of the Gospel, a thief or thieves broke into their store and robbed them. Two trunks were broken open, and the contents ransacked and scattered. They carried off about $50 worth of jewelry, and a knife and pistol worth $15 more. There was no money in the store for them to get. They also took two pairs of boots, but left them outside in an adjacent woodpile. The thieves entered and ransacked Treen & Damon's store, but finding no money, took nothing and decamped."

The Presbyterian Church at Olympia was dedicated on last Sabbath. The Tribune says: "The building was crowded with hundreds of interested auditors, and everything occurred harmoniously. A contribution and subscription paper were passed around to the congregation at the close of the services, and the sum of $379 raised to assist in the extinguishment of the church debt. The total amount of the expenditures, including what has been already done, a furnace underneath, purchasing an additional lot and leveling the two, fencing, a splendid new chandelier, enlarging and improving the parsonage, everything, is $2,100, of which all but $1,000 have been paid."

As the stage was coming from Idaho City to Boise last week, they met a team standing in the canyon, and Captain Bledsoe, riding with the driver as express messenger, got down with his double barreled shotgun in his hand, and went towards the team to see if there was a chance to go by. On seeing Bledsoe coming with his gun, the teamster jerked a Spencer rifle out of his wagon, and cocked it and told him to come on; for some reason or other the teamster's gun went off, the shot ranging pretty well—high over the Captain's head. Sheriff Byron went up after the teamster, who proved to be Homer Dray. He claimed that he was slightly demoralized, and the gun went off accidentally. Justice Ellis fined him $40, and he went on his way to Idaho City, for which place he was bound with his load.

The Puget Sound Baptist Association met on Friday of last week, according to previous appointment with First Baptist Church of Olympia, and listened to a sermon by Elder G. C. Chandler. The rules of the Association were suspended and Rev. J. Freeman, D D, was elected by acclamation Moderator for the ensuing year. Bros. Casto and Weston were elected delegates to the next session of the Willamette Association, Clymer and Weston to the Central Association, Jones and Rogers to the Corvallis Association, Stearns and Thorndike to the Umpqua Association, and Greene and Hanford to the Mount Pleasant Association. The reports of the Committee on State of Religion, and of Home and Foreign Missions, were received and adopted. Also, the report of the Committee on Resolutions. The clerk was directed to publish 500 copies of the minutes. Some other business of a routine character was transacted, and the Association adjourned, to meet in Seattle in June, 1874.

THE WALWORTH PARRICIDE—AN AFFECTING INCIDENT.—Mansfield Tracy Walworth's eldest daughter, Nellie, has for some time past been attending the school at the Convent of the Sacred Heart, Kenwood. Wednesday she received a message from her uncle, the Rev. Clarence Walworth, desiring her presence at his residence on Chapel street. Being totally unaware of the terrible affliction that had fallen on her family the day previous, she imagined her uncle wished to see and bid her adieu before leaving for Europe, as he contemplated doing; and, under the impression that such was the fact, she prepared with a joyous heart for visit. She arrived at her uncle's residence only to find that he had left instructions for her to immediately come to Saratoga; and after waiting about an hour, she proceeded to the depot, and took the train for that place. She was still unaware of the tragedy, the inmates of Father Walworth's not having the heart to inform her. Seated directly ahead of her in the car was a gentleman reading a paper which gave a full account of the parricide, in which the name of the murderer and the victim were displayed in glaring capitals at the head. Happening to glance over the passenger's shoulder, her eye caught the lines, and the sudden revelation threw her into fainting fits, which continued until her arrival at Saratoga. She was kindly cared for by ladies in the car, and on reaching the village was immediately removed to her home.

Senor Rubia has been appointed Minister at London in place of Moret Prendergast. In his credentials, Rubia is styled "Representative of Spain to England," instead of "To her Majesty Queen of England." All representatives of Spain to Powers which have not recognized the Republic are similarly accredited.

An investigation is being set on foot by Prof. Baird of the American Institute, to determine whether the fish of the Atlantic are showing signs of diminution or not. Starting from Mount Desert, Me., a Government tug will pursue the enquiry along the entire coast line.

OREGON.

The friends of Mr. A. Finney, of Hillsboro, will be glad to learn of his convalescence.

Nine marriage licenses were issued in Marion county during June, two less than in May.

The average attendance at the public schools in Astoria during the past year has been about 100 pupils.

There is at this time over one hundred tons of salmon on the wharf at Astoria—shipments from fisheries along the Columbia river.

The Spedden Brothers, of Astoria, have let the contract for the construction of the engines for their new tug, now in course of building.

John Kincaid, who was tried at the last term of the Circuit Court in Washington county, for larceny, and sentenced to one month in the county jail, was discharged on Tuesday, having served out his time.

Beaver Lodge No. 25, (Odd Fellows) elected officers for the new term at last meeting as follows: L. H. Hubbard, N. G; T. A. Hyland, V. G; C. H. Page, R. S; L. Wilson, P. S; John Hobson, Treasurer.

The following officers were elected by Anniversary Lodge No. 13, I. O. O. F., at Salem last Monday evening, to serve for the ensuing term: H. Carpenter, N. G; Jas. Coffey, V. G; E. C. Churchill, R. S; Harry Stapleton, Treasurer.

The Astorian says: "Prof. F. Hopkinson, of this city, made a test of some rock he has discovered which settles the matter in our mind that there exists in Clatsop county a ledge of stone that will produce a better article than the famous Portland cement."

The body of Norman Warner, the boy who was drowned a short time since while drawing a bucket of water from the steamer Fannie Patton, at Champoeg, was found last Monday floating in the river at Butteville and taken to Salem by the steamer Gov. Grover.

We have just received a copy of the Constitution and By Laws of the Oregon Farmers' Union, organized June 11, 1873. The object of the organization, as laid down in the Constitution, is to promote a concert of thought and action among the agriculturists of Oregon in matters pertaining to their interests, to secure fair and equitable prices for farm produce, etc., etc.

The Deputy Sheriff of Washington county left Hillsboro Tuesday morning to bring in Mr. John Campbell, living near Everson's saw mill on the road to Portland, who is charged with being insane. Our informant says that Mr. Campbell, on Monday, smashed up a lot of crockery and furniture, and chased everybody on the place with axes and knives, threatening to kill them. He was probably examined Tuesday afternoon before Judge Humphreys.

Our Washington correspondent says: "Mr. D. E. Wheeler, butcher at Hillsboro, killed a beef last Monday evening which had been brought from Yakima, W. T., and on opening it found near the backbone at the loins, some 25 cents of fine gold, which apparently had lodged in the membranes. I have often heard of such things, but never before had an opportunity of seeing for myself. Mr. Wheeler is anxious to kill the balance of the drove in order to see if these mines will pay."

The foundation for the State Capitol at Salem is almost completed, and looks sufficiently solid for all purposes. None but the best workmen have been engaged to do the masonry, and great pains have been taken by the Commissioners to secure good material. Messrs. Monroe & Steiger have a large force of stone cutters engaged in dressing and shaping the rock received from Southern Oregon, with which the lower portion of the building is to be constructed. The structure will be a large one, and requires a vast amount of labor, which makes it seem as though its progress was very slow.

The Walworth Parricide.

In the Walworth trial, on the 26th of June, the following letter was offered in evidence to justify young Walworth's crime. It was ruled out by the Court:

MAY 30, 1872—7 A. M.

Prepare yourself for the inevitable. I am getting over my wasting fever, and shall be out of my room in a few days. I am going to call upon my children. My heart is starving for their caresses. Make the interview when I come just as easy as possible. I cannot stay from them much longer. I will see them, peaceably if I can, with a tragedy if I must. Their little faces haunt me, as they are mine. Popish cruelty must bend to the demands of a father's heart or the Walworth name goes out in blood. Keep Frank Walworth out of my way. You have taught him to hate me, and his presence or obstruction in my way will only exert fatal exasperation. I want to see my little girl and come away peaceably. Beware that you do not in any way arouse the frenzy which you have known to exist since you left me. There is a plausible way to deal with me. I shall have my rights under that decree, with no further delay or legal expense. I have conceded promptly every right to you under that decree, and now I am going to see my children, and you shall not bring them up to hate their father. Eliza Backus has written to me that you will do it if you can; from your association with them, and then I shall shoot you and myself on those doorsteps, for I have nothing further to live for. Do right, Ellen Hardin, and you will find me prompt to do right. I am a broken hearted desperado. Save this letter for lawyers and Courts, if you please. God is my lawyer; not that remorseless, brutal God that you and Eliza Backus and C. A. Walworth worship, but the God that planted love for little girls in my heart, and that says to the beset tiger, "Kill!" Oh! you wretch—that kept me two years from the little hands and hearts that love me. Your only excuse was my poverty and misfortune. Should my children refuse to speak to me in the streets of Saratoga, I shall say to myself that she is teaching them all to hate a broken-hearted father. All is lost, and tragedy must come. When I know from the conduct of the little girls that you have taught them to hate me, that moment two pistol shots will ring about the house, one slaying you, the other myself. I know you have no personal fear no more than I have: but we both must die when the discovery reaches my brain that you have estranged my young children from me. You shall have your life. If my little girls do not love me, then my life is valueless, and I shall die with a feeling of luxury and rest; but you will have to attend me to the spirit land. The God of justice demands it; but if you do right under that decree, all may be well; but now my heart is agonized for my little children. If you had common sense you would know how to appreciate the danger. (Signed)

MANSFIELD TRACY WALWORTH.

ATTORNEYS' FEES, PENSION AND BOUNTY LAND CLAIMS.—The fee of agents and attorneys for the preparation and prosecution of a claim for pension or bounty land, under any or all of the various acts of Congress granting the same, shall not exceed, in any case, the sum of $25. It shall be the duty of the agent or attorney of record in the prosecution of the case to cause to be filed with the Commissioner of Pensions, for his approval, duplicate articles of agreement, without additional cost to the claimant, setting forth the fee agreed upon by the parties, and which agreement shall be executed in presence of and certified by some officer competent to administer oaths. In all cases where application is made for pension or bounty, and no agreement is made with and approved by the Commissioner, as herein provided, the fee shall be $10, and no more. The agent or attorney who shall contract for, demand, or retain any greater compensation for his services as such agent or attorney than is prescribed above, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall, for every such offense, be fined, not exceeding $500, or imprisonment at hard labor not exceeding five years, or both, at the discretion of the court.

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 30.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Miscellaneous.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—E. C. Ingersoll made an argument before Hon. Smith, Acting Secretary of the Interior, to-day, in behalf of the Eureka Mining Company of California, relative to the time within which adverse claims must be filed, claiming that the first day of publication should be counted one of the sixty mentioned in the statute.

Internal Revenue Receipts.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Receipts from Internal Revenue for the fiscal year ending to-day, were $115,667,7.7. The estimate was $110,000,000. Receipts for June, $9,051,695.

First Rebel Gun.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—It is intended to send to West Point, from the Ordnance Bureau, as a trophy of the late war, the first gun fired in the cause of the rebellion. It was fired at the steamer Vicksburg, bound for New Orleans, and supposed to have arms and ammunition on board belonging to the United States. The firing took place several days before any guns were fired at the United States forts or troops. It is a small four-pound cannon, and was formerly the property of the city of Vicksburg.

Suit against the P. M. S. S. Co.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Suit has been commenced in the Supreme Court by Alden B. Stockwell, late President of the Pacific Mail Steam Ship Company, to recover $1,342,870 from the company, which, it is alleged in the complaint, had been before June 10th, inst., sent and advanced to the defendants. The action grows out of an alleged hypothecating by Stockwell, for the company, of 12,000 shares of stock, under the act authorizing a reduction of the capital stock from twenty millions to ten millions, and which the newly-elected Board of Directors refused to accept at the rate of the time of purchase, which had subsequently fallen.

EASTERN STATES.

Another Indictment Against Woodhull, et al.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Woodhull, Claflin and Blood have been reindicted under the obscene publication act of 1873.

Kickapoos on the War Path.

NEW ORLEANS, June 30.—A Brownsville, Texas, dispatch says the mail from Laredo brings news that a large party of Kickapoo Indians are encamped on the Mexican side a few miles from there. It is supposed that they are waiting for the Rio Grande to fall and then to make a raid on that place. Preparations are being made for a vigorous defense. These Indians have been in the habit of making incursions in that section, robbing ranches and killing persons, and escaping into Mexico unpunished.

Congratulations.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The following telegram has been received from the Captain of the Great Eastern:

GREAT EASTERN, HEART'S CONTENT, June 27.

To Cyrus W. Field, New York: Many thanks for your congratulations to all connected with laying the cable of 1873. I am sure it will live long. We shall start as soon as possible to resurrect the 1865 cable.

(Signed) R. C. HALPIN.

Billiard Tournament.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The first game in the billiard tournament this afternoon was played between Garnier and Daly, and resulted—Garnier, 300; Daly, 227. This evening Garnier played Cyrille Dion, defeating him. This gives Garnier the first prize. Daly and Dion played for the second prize, which was won by Dion.

Another Explosion.

An explosion of a box of giant powder in the Hoosac tunnel on Sunday, killed four men, fatally wounding ten and seriously injuring another.

Fires.

SAVANNAH, June 30.—Half of the business portion of Thomasville has been burned.

DETROIT, June 30.—A fire early this morning destroyed McBarker & Co.'s tobacco factory.

Our Regular Murder.

ST. JOHNSBURY, June 30.—James Snow, a farmer, while drunk on Saturday, fatally shot John Stanton, a peddler, who called at his house to sell him some goods.

The Code.

NEW ORLEANS, June 30.—A rumor is current here that Col. R. B Rhett, chief editor of the Picayune, and ex-Judge Cooley, have gone to Mississippi City to fight a duel. Cooley was one of the counsel for plaintiff in the recent suit of Hawkins vs Picayune for libel.

Cholera.

CINCINNATI, June 30.—Thirteen deaths from cholera were reported at the health office to-day.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Sir Samuel Baker Heard From.

LONDON, June 30.—The Government has received a dispatch from Sir Samuel Baker, dated Khartoum, May 29th, where he had arrived with other Europeans of his expedition all safe and sound. He reported that the country, as far south as the Equator, has been annexed to Egypt. The slave trade has been suppressed, and all rebellious movements and secret intrigues checked. The country is orderly, and its Government perfectly organized. A road has been opened to Zanzibar, free from interruption. He won a victory on the sixth of May, with only one hundred and five men, over the African chief, Oneoa. His mission is perfectly successful.

The Earthquake in Italy.

FLORENCE, June 30.—The shock of earthquake yesterday morning was concentrated in the country north of Venice, where the effects were terrible, both in the loss of life and ruin of property. At Belluno, four persons were killed and many injured. At Pieve de Alpago, several were injured. At Towes, three were killed and four wounded. At Firos, eleven; at Visconi, two; and at Cavassage, one. Several churches are in ruins, and many are badly shattered. Hundreds of houses were leveled to the ground. The inhabitants have not yet recovered from their terror, and thousands are encamped in the fields.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—There is again a scarcity of seamen in this port. It is stated that there will be six vessels on the list of Commissioner Stephenson this week for crews which they have not yet been able to obtain.

The total number of arrests by the police during the month of June foots up 1,310. The provisions of the new Code making a second commission of petit larceny a felony, has a very demoralizing effect on small thieves who formerly did a thriving business. Almost every day some old offender of this class is started for San Quentin instead of the county jail.

The Pacific Rolling Mill Company made a new crank shaft for the British steamer Lord of the Isles, which was taken to the Risdon Works to be finished up, when a serious flaw was discovered, necessitating the making of another shaft, and the detention of the steamer for thirty days.

General Rosecrans arrived by the overland train last night.

Passengers overland—Misses Emily and A. Oliver, Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—At a meeting of the Commissioners this afternoon the question of removals came up, when Chief Engineer Whitney defended his course, saying he had not removed any one on political or personal grounds, but that all his removals had been made with a view to increasing the efficiency of the force under his command.

The Anglo-California Bank opens to-morrow for business under the management of R. G. Sneath and I. Steinhart.

There was a purchase to-day of 400 barrels of superfine flour, to be shipped to Hongkong per Cyphrenes.

A few days since a report was current here that young Winship, of the Shubrick, had committed suicide and that his body and clothes were found on the wharf. To-day he made his appearance sound and healthy in the city prison.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

SACRAMENTO, July 1.—There was a much larger attendance at the Agricultural Park to-day, a large number of ladies being present. The day was a lovely one, and the track never was in better condition. The entries for the race were as follows: Trotting race, free for all horses that have never beaten 2 30 in harness, Special premium, $750—first horse, premium, $600; second horse, premium, $150; third horse, premium, $100. T McClellan named b h Sam Purdy, Ferris named bl m Black Swan, Barney Rice named br g Dexter, Lucas named b g Regulator, E. H. Miller named b m Mayflower, A. P Smith named br g Geo. Treat, E M Skaggs, named b m Mary Davis, "by mutual consent." Purdy did not start in the race. Black Swan had the call in the pools at about the following figures: Black Swan, $100; Dexter, $60; Regulator, $85; Davis, $35; Mayflower, $11. Black Swan, $11; Regulator, $60; Dexter, $66; Davis, $30; Mayflower, $11. Dexter drew the pole, Mayflower, second position, Davis, third, Black Swan, fourth; Regulator, fifth. First heat—After some fourteen scores, the horses got the word on a very even send off. Regulator outtrotted his competitors and led to the quarter, but was passed at the half by Black Swan and Dexter, time, 1 14. Swan led by a length, but at the home stretch she went up and Dexter took the lead coming down the home stretch at a swinging gait, winning the heat. Black Swan second, Davis third, Regular fourth, Mayflower distanced, time 2 29. Pools now sold, Dexter 50, Swan 40, Davis 10, Regular 2. Second heat was hotly contested, Swan passing Dexter on the first quarter, Davis and Regulator well up, with Dexter fourth and breaking, but soon came down to his work, and led the field at the half, swinging into the home stretch at a rattling gait, winning the heat by several lengths. Black Swan second, Davis third, Regulator fourth, time 2 27. This time astonished all, the knowing ones in particular. Pools after this heat sold, Dexter 250@260, against 55@60 for the field. Third heat, Dexter led to the half in 1 13, winning the heat and race in 2:2[illegible].

It is generally believed that to-morrow's running race will be the greatest ever run in this State over $2,000 has already been wagered, that 1 43 will be beat. The following horses are entered for the race. Nell, Flaherty, Thad Stevens, Occoda, Demorest and Abi. The animals, this morning, were all in the finest possible condition.

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—C. P. Huntington, President of the Southern Pacific Railroad and party, consisting of J. Ross Browne, Gen Colton, Benj Crocker and E. B. Ryan, arrived here to-day. It is announced that work on this end commences at once. Los Angeles is to be the terminus.

VALLEJO, July 1.—It is reported that Commandant Selfridge will be relieved on Thursday by Admiral John Rodgers.

The Tuscarora's armament is now being unloaded prior to going on the dry dock. She will probably remain here until the arrival of the apparatus for deep sea sounding, now en route from the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

SAN DIEGO, July 1.—The mortgage of the Texas and Pacific Railroad Co. to J. Edgar Thompson and Samuel M. Felton, Trustees, was filed for record yesterday. The purpose of the mortgage is to secure the construction bonds to be issued by the Company to the extent of $40,000 per mile. Chief Engineer Evans says all the contracts for the first ten miles have been let, and that operations will move forward actively as soon as the material begins to arrive, which will be in about thirty days.

SACRAMENTO, July 1.—In the pools this evening, Flaherty is selling at $110; Thornhill, $60; Occoda, $13; Target, $13. Thad. Stevens, Demorest and Abi will not start to-morrow. After the running race, there will be a pacing race, free for all seven-forty horses.

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS.

Glass-making is likely to become a new industry in St. Louis.

A factory in Kankakee, Ill., turns out 14,400,000 buttons per annum.

The various canal projects ask Government aid to the amount of about $200,000,000.

Oakes Ames failed for seven millions, and in two years paid every cent with interest.

Mobile has rented its penitentiary and all its convict contents to a company for ten years.

Potatoes are to be raised at the frontier army posts to give a mealier rations to the soldiers.

A Mission church in Manchester, England, advertises "The Smallest Preacher in the World."

W. R. Hill, son of General D. Hill, of the Confederate army, has been appointed a West Point cadet.

A Michigan farmer has written to Mr. Bergh to know if folding doors in hog pens will be the fashion this summer.

A fire in Columbus, Georgia, was recently extinguished by the spontaneous musical exertion of five dozen of champagne.

The revision of the New Testament, now in progress in England, will occupy seven years, and that of the Old Testament twelve years.

Down East, when they want to speak of a man's liberality and don't want to praise him too much, they say he has a heart as big as Rhode Island.

A Louisville man drunk a Seidlitz powder, one glass at a time, and the boiling operation took place inside of him. His contortions are described as "beautiful."

Sergeant Bates, the man who carried the American flag from one end of England to the other without getting stoned, is now working on the streets of London for his daily provender.

The iron puddlers of Pittsburg are to be paid an extra dollar per ton for all iron manufactured during the three months of summer, to pay for the service of an extra helper who is required during that time.

A little boy in Springfield, after his customary evening prayer, a night or two ago, continued, "and bless mama, and Jennie, and Uncle Bruny," adding, after a moment's pause, the explanatory remark, "his name is Hutchinson."

The total earnings of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway during the year ending June 1, 1873, were $12,717,616 97, which exceeds the earnings of the previous year in the sum of $1,815,455 53. A very good exhibit—for the stockholders.

One peculiarity of the late electric storm in Southern Iowa, was that the electric current ascended from the earth as well as descended to it. On several occasions bright flashes of fire, and even balls of fire, shot suddenly upward from the earth to greet the hovering clouds.

Stealing has just been recognized as a legitimate profession in New York. Some time ago $200,000 worth of bonds was taken from the Waterford Bank, in that State. The thieves kept quiet for a little while and now have just returned their plunder on condition of retaining 25 per cent. of it, and of being exempt from all prosecution.

The Literary World (Boston) mentions a current rumor to the effect that Bret Harte is about to bid a long farewell to the United States, and take up his residence in London, where he thinks he will be more justly appreciated than he finds himself to be at home. If Mr. Harte has any such complaint to make, we think he has only himself to blame, for whether it be laziness or what not that may have caused his falling-off, it is an indisputable fact that he has, since he went to the Atlantic States, written quite as much trash as the most liberal critic will allow the average author. Or, as the World puts it: "He ought to remain at the East, at least to fulfill the promise of his early career, and to vindicate the sagacity of the literary magnates who welcomed him on his first coming hither, and who seem to have exhausted in that effort all the caloric in their natures. Mr. Harte has written nothing since he left the Pacific Coast even nearly equal to his earlier compositions; and he owes to his countrymen the opportunity of failing, when he departs, if he does depart, that his quality has not really deteriorated under their influence." The rebuke in the last sentence is elegantly worded.

Senator Sherman on the Back Pay Grab.

The Cincinnati Gazette has the following letter from Senator Sherman in relation to the Congressional back pay grab:

MANSFIELD, (Ohio,) June 19th.

Editors Gazette: I notice a telegram in yesterday's Gazette in which General Boynton classifies me with Senators who have not returned their back pay. This is literally true, for, as I have not received it, I have not returned it. Still, the telegram conveys a false impression. The simple truth is, that within a few days after the passage of the salary bill, and after consulting with some of my colleagues, and in deference to the general sentiment of my constituents, I determined I would not receive the back pay, but would leave it where it now is—in the Treasury of the United States. I so notified the disbursing officer of the Senate, and when asked by any one about the matter, I have answered that I would not receive it. I did not and do not now deem it necessary formally to receive the money and then pay it back again.

It was not my purpose to make any public statement of my action in this matter, and I do so now not from any desire to claim any merit for what I have done, nor even by implication to censure such of my associates who, though voting against the salary bill, yet received the pay allowed by it, but simply to assure those who take an interest in the matter, that I have not received, and will not receive any portion of the $4,336 40 allowed me by the salary bill for back pay. Yours truly,

JOHN SHERMAN.

Not the Party—An Indignant Disavowal.

SALEM, July 1, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

My attention has been called to a statement in your Salem correspondence of June 27th in regard to the left handed goddess that adorns (?) our new Court House.

Now, your correspondent not having the fear of God before his eyes, and instigated by the devil, or having been wrongly informed, or being very much mistaken, did state that the said Goddess emanated from the shop of "Praxitiles Cooke & Phidias Dennis." Who these gentlemen are is a question, as there is no such firm in Salem; but who your correspondent meant, is evident; and in behalf of the firm of Cooke, Dennis & Co., I ask you to correct the statement, and spare the reputation of that firm, for the aforesaid lefthanded goddess was not designed nor executed in their shop, nor are they in any way responsible for her being. And furthermore, we think that your correspondent could not better atone for his error than in using his influence with our County Court to have the said goddess removed from her present pedestal, and let the house be used for a better purpose than to uphold such a deformed representation of Justice. Yours, &c., J.

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 2 1873

The Courts and the People.

The people of the United States, crime ridden and insecure in person and property, in consequence of the unaccountable tenderness of courts and juries towards persons on trial for high offences, the unscientific and impracticable theories of witnesses sworn as professionals, and the abuses of the pardoning power, were gradually educated up to the point of making a vigorous protest against the lawlessness that held possession of all the avenues of justice. This protest began to be heard all over the land about a year ago, when the press echoed the demand for the better enforcement of the criminal laws, through communications first and then through editorial comment. The blind goddess heard the din and clamor, and commenced feeling about her to ascertain whether there was not reason to fear that her temple was about to be overthrown and her altars destroyed. Judges and juries also heard, and with hearts even more keenly sensitive to the noise of the multitude than the goddess they are supposed to worship, began to cast about for some means of restoring to themselves the old lost confidence of the people. They were not blind like their goddess, and they saw the way out of their troubles with remarkable clearness. They had drifted along with a current of sickly sentimentality that was wholly devoid of true and lofty sentiment, until they had fogotten justice and ceased to consult the interests of society. Society had either never gone with them in their drifting, or else had suddenly turned about and gone back, leaving them alone. Indeed, society had done more than this. It had planted itself on the extreme ground of rigid adherence to the law as it read, without any specious interpretation in the interests of kleptomaniacs, and persons afflicted with an emotional insanity that prompted them to take the lives of their neighbors on the smallest imaginable provocation. This left judges and juries, who were for the most part politicians and the instruments of politicians, in a very unpleasant predicament. But, as we said before, they saw the predicament, and by an instinct peculiar to certain classes of persons, they saw the way out of it. The people must be placated. They had called for Barabbas, and he had been released unto them; the next thing to be done was to crucify Jesus at their demand. So for a few months convictions have been more frequent than ever before. It is, in our judgment, a very rare thing that an innocent person is convicted of crime under our system of criminal jurisprudence; and it is an extremely rare occurrence for any man to be convicted but who is guilty of so many other crimes besides the one charged against him that he could be convicted "on general principles," whatever may be the truth in regard to the specific matter on trial. But there is every reason to believe while this is so, that a very considerable proportion of the convictions that have taken place within the last six or eight months have been had upon evidence that would have been wholly insufficient if judged by the old and well-settled rules, uninfluenced by passion or popular clamor.

It will be a most auspicious day for this country when the courts are so created that in the noise of the interested crowd who pervert the law and corrupt the fountains of justice, there will be no response from the court to the crowd. No intelligent person can deny that there is advantage in having courts so constituted that they will be near the people, but this does not imply a subjecting of them to popular changes of sentiment any further than that change finds expression in the form of statutes. The courts should be so near the people that they could hear the cry of every person, no matter of how mean estate, who was oppressed or wronged, but not so near as to be in danger of having the scales or the sword wrenched from their hands.

Here's another misguided young wretch in Alexandria, Virginia, in whose chivalric bosom the smouldering embers of affection for the "lost cause" stir him to an idiotic emulation of Sergeant Bates, the eccentric individual who confronted the British lion in his native haunts, and awed him into payment of the Geneva award, simply by a display of the stars and stripes. This Alexandrian young man proposes to march from Gettysburg to Bunker Hill with a Confederate flag unfurled upon his shoulder. We are inclined to the belief that by the time the unreconstructed young man gets within the shadow of Bunker Hill Monument he will sensibly conclude that his mission is quite a work of supererogation.

"And the king had a vision." He must be a most incorrigible disbeliever in premonitory dreams who will not confess himself beaten by the ghostly experience which befell a Milwaukee man as he lay on his couch, after a hearty dinner of corned beef and cabbage. This slumbering individual dreamed that he saw his brother's head severed from his body without the loss of a drop of blood. On the following day a letter was received stating that the brother in question had just been discharged from a comfortable postmastership. We expect soon to hear of an indiscriminate slaughter of the brothers of Federal officials.

Cooke, Dennis & Co., of Salem, we are told, resent with indignation, the statement of our special correspondent that their firm had any part or lot in impaling on the Court House spire in that city the Brobdignagian wench with the hay scales in her left hand. They say the monstrosity that proposes to weigh out justice in its left hand, while it holds its right in a position to receive a "piece," does not fairly represent their ideal of the blind goddess, and they consider it a left-handed compliment to be mentioned in connection with the paternity of the thing.

The constitution of New Hampshire contains a clause which provides that the Governor, the members of the Governor's Council, Senators and Representatives must be "of the Protestant religion." Governor Straw has recently recommended that, "although in effect obsolete, as professional Catholics have from time to time been elected to the House of Representatives, and retained their seats unquestioned, yet, for the credit of the State this odious religious test should be abolished."

A singular case of homicide is that which occurred recently near Santa Rosa, on the line of the Northern Pacific. Charles Hoefner and Valentine Scheiner were sleeping together in a store. Hoefner dreamed that a man was robbing the store, and in his sleep shot Scheiner, killing him. The men were on the most friendly terms, and after an investigation Hoefner was discharged.

Our readers will remember a case referred to some days since, as pending before the Circuit Court of the United States for Massachusetts, in which the question involved was whether persons who, acting as special agents of the Treasury of the United States, during the rebellion, took cotton belonging to citizens of the seceded States, were responsible therefor in an action brought by the owner of the cotton after the restoration of peace. The case has been decided in favor of the defendants, Judge Shepley holding that the fact of their receiving the cotton as the agents of the United States Treasury exempted them from personal liability in the premises. The amount involved in this action was $500,000, and the amount involved in the principle it was founded on reaches into the millions.

The Springfield Republican gives some statistics of the graduating class at Yale which are of some interest now in commencement season. The class has had connected with it altogether 175 persons, of whom 113 hope to graduate. Seventy five are members of some church, 44 being Congregationalists, 62 drink, 69 smoke, and 16 chew; 9 are hard swearers, and 38 others "cuss" occasionally, under provocation; 11 are otherwise immoral, 92 card players, 53 billiard players, and 81 dancers complete the statistics of immorality. Sixty-five of the class are Republicans, and 14 are Democrats; 11 have chosen law for a profession, 15 business, 13 the ministry, 6 medicine, 6 teaching, 2 journalism, 2 banking, 2 civil engineering, 1 art and 1 mining.

The New York Herald of the 20th instant publishes a long interview with Col. Mosoby, the notorious guerrilla, wherein the doughty chieftain is made to say that he intended soon to take the stump for General Grant for a third term. This rather enraged Mosoby. He now comes out in a fiery denial that any such conversation ever occurred, and goes for the scalp of the Herald editor in the liveliest manner.

The defense of Brother Harlan, which occupied two or three columns in his paper a few days since, was provoked by the publication in Forney's Chronicle of a short opinion of the ex-Senator's character. The epitomized biography describes Brother Harlan as "a man who will forsake God for Mammon, and then not serve Mammon with decency." Which is very severe.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of the 20th ult., reports the arrest at Owingsville, Kentucky, of an outlaw named Hogan, who has disclosed the names of eighty members of a band of desperadoes to which he belonged. He says that this line of robbers and thieves extends from Pendleton county, through Kentucky and Virginia, into North Carolina.

The Saint Paul Press says the population of that city at the present time is 30,000, and that in ten years, at the rate it has increased during the last three years it will reach 100,000. If it continue to grow for a half century there can't be less than several hundred millions of people there at the expiration of that period.

From Hon. J. N. Matheny, one of the Commissioners to appraise the improvements of settlers in Wallowa Valley, we learn that the Commission has completed its labors. The sum total of the appraisement has not yet been computed.

The New York World indulges the pleasing hope that the Farmers' Granges will not "interfere with the Democratic party." The Chicago Times from the midst of the Granges responds that there is no Democratic party left in the West to be inerfered with.

English Notes.

Mr. Henry Watterson, a free-born citizen of Louisville, Kentucky, and editor of the Courier-Journal, is on his travels. In his entertaining letter from London we detect quite as much ascerbity of criticism as Mr. Dickens displayed in his "American Notes." In that portion of his letter which we quote below, it is instructive to note the hearty home pride and love of country which clings even to the "ex-Confederate." The bitter partizanship of the political editor is dropped for a time. The dislike of Grant and the fear of centralization, the savage assault on Civil Service, and all omens of imperialism and the "Dictatorship"—these are forgotten; and in their place we see a genuine respect for that broad freedom which our grand Republic bestows upon its citizens. Perhaps after all there is no cure for the hypochondriasis with which half the editors of America are afflicted, half so effectual as a brief absence and a season of miserable home sickness. We recommend the simple remedy to Democratic editors, and to such of their readers as believe America to be the worst-ruled country on the globe. As for Mr. Watterson, there is every symptom of vigorous loyalty in his case, and we should not be at all surprised to see him return a staunch Republican. We quote from Mr. W.'s letter, dated London, May 31st:

> No man is a prophet, but any man of ordinary capacity can see that republicanism is a fixture in Europe. The United States is at this moment the greatest influence, and, in many respects, the greatest power in the world. If there be any discontented American citizen, North or South, who regrets the circumstance, let him come over here, let him see the villainous class distinctions which everywhere manifest themselves; let him conceive the villainous proscriptions, political, social and individual, which they denote; let him compare the most abject phase of life in America with the every day forms, customs and phases of life in this country, and then, as an honest, God-fearing man, let him go home if he dares and say he is not proud of his nationality, proud of its institutions, with all their short comings and imperfections, proud of its glory and its prestige, and grateful to its flag because, in the midst of oppressions which, in a free land like England, are accepted as the common places of life by intelligent people, it can throw over him its folds, making him, to all intents and purposes, what Mr. Gladstone, their own Prime Minister, is not—the equal of my neighbor, the Marquis of Westminster, and my little friend over the way, the Duke of Devonshire! I say, as a man who respects the English people, who believes them to be the best governed people in Europe, and who concedes them to be the most lovable in the world, that, with all their advantages over us in point of precedence and culture, they are less happy in their national spirit, in their institutes, in their habits, customs and ideas, considered politically, than we are and, revering their antiquities and rejoicing in their literature, I declare that I would rather be, what I am, an obscure ex-Confederate, out of power and out of favor at home—nay, a citizen of Louisiana—than be a well to do citizen of London, living under the shadow of Mr. Burke's coeval towers and that constitution which is so girt and fenced in by limiting statutes as to deny a fair man a fair chance in his own country. It is the sheerest gammon to talk about English freedom. The only freedom they have in England is begot by fear in the upper classes, in the Cabinet, in the Parliament. Though in no sense really enslaved, the people are as much enslaved as the people of Poland—enslaved to prejudices, predilections, which their masters have fastened into laws. The ball of revolution, successfully set going in Spain and France, will presently come this way; and then you may look for Lord Macaulay's Australasian sitting among the ruins of St. Pauls, for of all the cities of the world, as Blucher first suggested, London is the one city that seems to have been meant by God and nature for sack and pillage, fire and sword, the civilized tomahawk and the scientific torch.

A Defense of the Salary Steal

In a San Francisco paper we find the annexed report of a speech made by Senator Matt. Carpenter, on the night of the 25th ult. The Senator's argument is its own best answer. It seems to have been made for purposes of amusement. Certainly some of the reasons offered in defense of the back-pay steal are ridiculous enough; that one, for instance, which urges that the Senator or Congressman cannot "refuse his compensation without violating the Constitution." The Senator's "characteristic strain" which denounces the demand of the people, that their representatives shall wash their hands too clean to take a bribe, as a "sore, fidgety, sickly morality," is not indicative of a very thorough personal knowledge of "the manly and healthy virtues taught by the Master of Nazareth." We commend the speech to a careful reading, as the most remarkable defense of the salary increase yet published.

Senator Matthew Carpenter, of Wisconsin, made his promised speech in explanation and defense of the increase of salary bill, with the back pay attachment, to a considerable audience, at Janesville, to night. The speech makes about five columns in nonpareil type, and about one third of it is devoted to an explanation and defense of the Credit Mobilier, to the excitement about which he attributes what he called the uproar about what is courteously stated "the back pay steal." The Credit Mobilier, he declared, carried terror into the hearts of unsophisticated people, mainly by its name, which, not understanding, they thought must mean something dreadful. The press added to the panic, and frightened those who had owned Mobilier stock into the belief that they had committed a wrong in holding it. He said the Credit Mobilier investigation of last winter has left a stain upon the nation, and cast a gloom over those who believe that man's capacity for self-government and the freedom of the press are indispensable to free institutions, and yet, it seems as though freedom of the press was the only freedom left in this country. It seems as though freedom of the press was absolute despotism, as against everybody but the press. The press frightened Colfax and Patterson into the idea that to own Credit Mobilier stock was criminal, and they appear to have rushed into the effort to disprove their ownership. The proof convinces all men that they were mistaken and uncharitable; that they intended to prevaricate, and so these men who had before the investigation done nothing worthy of censure, are whistled down the wind, wrecked and ruined for ever, and forty millions of people are stirred with apprehension and alarm.

The Credit Mobilier, he declared, owed the Government nothing. The Government paid only what it agreed to for the Union Pacific road, and had, and has no interest in the matter as between the two companies—the Union Pacific Company and the Credit Mobilier. The suit instituted by the Government against the Mobilier Company, or, to use the speaker's language, against mankind in general, he said, was the result of a panic into which Congress was thrown last winter by the outcry of the press against the Credit Mobilier, and, said he, the Attorney General has entered upon this holy crusade, with what result we shall see when the courts pass upon the case. The suit has no parallel in the judicial annals of any civilized country, and the real question to be determined is whether the courts are as weak in a popular storm as Congress has shown itself to be.

The main points of the Senator's argument in support of the increased salary bill and back pay, were: First, that the sum fixed, $7,500 per annum, is none too much for the services of intelligent Senators and Representatives, inasmuch as it is as little as they can live on. If the compensation of Congressmen were fixed at a lower rate than they could afford to give their services for, the Government would fall into the hands of the rich, and lose its distinctive character as a Government in which the poor have equal rights in making the laws with the rich. Enlarging upon this point he contended that under the Constitution it is actually incumbent upon a Senator or Representative to accept the pay fixed by law, and that he cannot refuse it without violating the Constitution, which expressly says he "shall receive such compensation," etc. In regard to the back pay feature of the bill he argued that as the Constitution made it the duty or right of Congress to fix the compensation of its members, it was as competent for them to fix the amount on the last day of the session as on the first; that there was no contract, express or implied, between the people and Congressmen that the latter should serve for a certain amount of pay. If a man had an agent, and it was agreed that the latter should pay himself out of any funds of his employer in his hands, such compensation as he thought his services worth, the employer had no right to complain. Finally, he cited former instances where members of Congress had increased their own pay, as in 1856 and in 1866, giving a list of Senators who received their back pay then, and asking if there was any man willing to brand these men as thieves. He argued that if it is larceny or a lesser wrong to receive back pay now, it was a similar offence to receive it in 1856 or in 1866. The Senator concluded in the following characteristic strain: "Washington left the impress of his character upon his own and succeeding generations. Jefferson, Madison, Hamilton, and others gave an impulse to public thought, and fixed a standard of public virtue, under which we have grown to be a great and happy people. But it was left for Oakes Ames to lift the standard of public virtue clean out of mortal reach and clean out of human sight. Things which, viewed in the light of our Savior's teachings and estimated by the standard of Christian morality, are as harmless as the cooings of a dove, are larcenies, mortal sins, in the light of 1873, and estimated by the standard of alarm and fright created by Oakes Ames and the Credit Mobilier investigation. Earthquakes sometimes come, and storms sometimes rage; but the earth will not always rock nor the rains always fall, and we may hope that the present sore, fidgety, sickly morality will sometime give place to the manly and healthy virtue taught by the Master of Nazareth."

How is this for Lowe? The English papers tell us that Mr. Robert Lowe, the Chancellor of Exchequer, is a man very generally disliked. If incidents like the following are of frequent occurrence, we sympathize with the Commons. Mr. Lowe affects the velocipede. While careering gaily on one of those infamous vehicles, he came in violent contact with one George Smith. Straightway there was wailing and gnashing of teeth in the Smith family, for George had imprudently launched his impaired carcass on the Thames, which remorseless stream at once gave him filthy sepulture. Not a word was said in Parliament about the lamentable occurrence, for Smith was only one of a large family of that name.

The Courier-Journal referring to the folly by which a war was brought about between the Government and the Seminole Indians, says a few hasty buckshots fired at a little band of peaceable Indians, cost the Government thirty millions. "But, thank goodness," adds the Courier-Journal, "the Government paid the debt like a gentleman, as she was in those days."

For Sale,

850,000 Acres of Land

IN SOUTHERN OREGON

Title Perfect—U. S. Land Grant Fully Confirmed.

THE "PACIFIC LAND COMPANY," INCORPORATED with capital stock of 5,000 shares of par value of $240 each, have purchased the road and entire land grant of the "OREGON CENTRAL MILITARY ROAD COMPANY," consisting of over 850,000 acres of Agricultural Grazing & Timber Lands,

Passing from Eugene City 125 miles from Portland by Railroad) through the splendid "Lake Country," to Silver City, near the border of Idaho

Each share of the PACIFIC LAND COMPANY thus representing now over 160 acres of land, and is UNASSESSABLE.

Three thousand shares belong to the Company, and will be offered for sale by us, the entire proceeds of which will go into the Treasury.

The first one thousand shares will be offered at $120 per share, United States Currency—say at the rate of 75 cents per acre. Every share will also be received at its par value of $240, in payment for land, as soon as the appraisals are made. Such share will then be cancelled, and not re-issued, and a deed given to the purchaser.

The land will be appraised at moderate rates, in accordance with its actual value, as soon as practicable, in sections of 640 acres, and at not less than $1.50 per acre, U. S. Currency, and offered for sale. Actual settlers, however, always having preference.

We refer, as to the character of this magnificent grant of land, to CLARENCE KING, Esq., the U. S. Geologist for this coast, who is familiar with it from personal observation, also to the elaborate report of the Hon. B. J. Pengra, late Surveyor General of Oregon, [illegible] this road and lands, from which we quote: "[illegible] there is but very little of the entire grant but what is valuable for either Farming, Grazing or Timbering purposes."

[illegible] shares are cancelled the average [illegible] remaining shares will naturally increase [illegible]

IMMIGRANTS,

BUYING THESE SHARES CAN SECURE GOOD LANDS WITH PERFECT TITLE AT LESS THAN GOVERNMENT RATES.

[illegible] the shares of the PACIFIC LAND COMPANY [illegible] in the lands, with [illegible] no investment can be better for CHILDREN as the value of the property must increase [illegible] in a few years.

Remittances for shares can be sent [illegible] by Wells Fargo & Co. or in registered letters.

Full particulars, maps and a descriptive pamphlet can be obtained at our office, where the subscription book for the shares is now open.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 2, 1873.

CITY.

LIVELY ESCAPADE.—A lively and exciting chase took place yesterday afternoon from Justice Dodge's Court, which created an unusual stir on the streets for some time. The affair grew out of a law suit. One of the parties to the suit paid over a sum of money to another party. The money should have been given to an attorney instead of the client. After the mistake, if such it can be called, the attorney demanded the money. This the client refused to do, and slipping from the room fled down the street. The attorney followed in hot pursuit. The alarm became general, and the cry of stop thief was raised by the pursuer. Down Washington to Front, down Front to C street fled pursued and pursuers. Up C street to First the crowd ran. At the corner of First and C streets the fleeing client was overhauled and taken back. He persistently refused to disgorge, and we learn that the party has been arrested on a criminal charge.

BEWARE OF POISONS.—Owners of valuable and highly prized canines had better not only procure the required license, to ward away the raids of the dog-pelter, but to keep a sharp optic as to what the animals eat. It is all well enough to "throw physic to the dogs," but to mix in a little strychnine or arsenic with either medicine, or something more nourishing to canine stomachs, is not always attended with the greatest sanitary effects. Yesterday a large terrier was caused to pass in his checks at the corner of Stark and First streets. Poison was the fell destroyer. It destroyed the dog's life and robbed its owner of his peace of mind. A large and sympathizing crowd gathered around the spot to witness the agonies of the expiring animal. There are many worthless curs in the city, in fact the place is overrun, but there are some valuable dogs. It would be prudent for owners to be wary of their favorites.

A NEW PAPER.—The first number of the Tri-Weekly Astorian made its appearance yesterday. Its name indicates its character, as it is to be issued on each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and, judging by the number before us, is very Astorian in its tone, strongly advocating the great advantages of Astoria over all other points on the Northwest coast as the site of the great commercial entrepot and center of the future. Mr. Ireland, editor and publisher of the Astorian is too well known to the people of Oregon as a newspaper man, to need an introduction at our hands, and we doubt not he will make his paper a success. His first number is racy, newsy and neat. We like its appearance and wish its [illegible].

STILL GRINDING.—The case of the State vs. John M. Moore is still grinding in the Circuit Court. Confirmatory of the statement of John C. Nixon (alias "Wrestling Joe"), the following [illegible] was received here yesterday:

RALEIGH, N. C., June 30, 1873.—D. B. Hannah: John C. Nixon came to this country from Ireland, a boy, about 1834, to join his uncle, Charles [illegible], who had preceded him.

A. RENCHER.

Rencher is an ex member of Congress, a distant relative of Nixon, and an influential man in his State.

THE CANBY CAMPMEETING.—The Oregon and California Railroad Company have reduced the fare for all persons wishing to attend the Conference Campmeeting at Canby, which will commence next Saturday, to half price—from this city, $1 25 for the round trip. This arrangement is to be in force over the whole line to last from July 5th to the 15th. A boarding tent will be kept on the ground, and it is expected ample [illegible] will be furnished those who [illegible] themselves. The express [illegible] stop [illegible] the grounds on each trip.

SHOT UP.—On the complaint of Wm. Caples, "Rip [illegible]," who resides on a ranch adjacent St. Johns, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued from Justice Dodge's court. Mason was accused of having drawn a dangerous weapon, a rifle on the prosecuting witness for the purpose of intimidation. The testimony being [illegible] to the mind of the court, the defendant was fined $40, and in default, was sent to jail for twenty days.

GRAND SACRED CONCERT.—This evening the [illegible] the leadership of Dr. J. H. Hatch will give a grand concert at the new Trinity church. The music will all be of a sacred character. Prof. R. T. [illegible], Mr. George L. De Prans and Mr. L. W. [illegible] will preside at the organ. A very fine programme is offered the public. We call attention to the programme published elsewhere.

CONSOLIDATION.—The Central Hotel of Olympia has sold out to Thos. Jackson, the proprietor of the Tacoma House. The Central will be closed, and J. Morrison, the proprietor of the Central, will be a partner of the Tacoma House with Thomas Jackson. The office of the opposition stage will be at the Tacoma House in future. The Tacoma House is now the best hotel in Olympia.

AN ANNOYANCE.—Frequent complaints have been made to us of late of a large Newfoundland dog, whose owner resides on the south side of Morrison street between Third and Fourth. The incessant barking of the animal during the night keeps the people awake for the distance of a block around. The animal ought to be made to hold his peace.

WILL CONCERTIZE.—Prof. McGibeny and family have accepted an invitation to attend the celebration at St. Joe on the Fourth, and will add to the interest and attractions of the occasion by singing a number of patriotic songs. Arrangements have been completed by Prof. McGibeny for the holding of a concert in the evening at St. Joe.

REQUIRED TO MEET.—We are requested to state that the little girls who are to ride in the Liberty car at the celebration are required to meet on the morning of the Fourth at 9 o'clock at the Skating Rink. There are to be 37 girls to represent the States, one Goddess of Liberty, and four surrounding her, to personate the seasons of the year.

EXCAVATING.—For several days past a number of workmen have been engaged in clearing away and burning up the debris on the late site of the [illegible] American Restaurant. Yesterday a large force was employed in excavating for the foundation of the new brick building soon to be erected by Mr. J. L. Parrish.

FOR ONE YEAR.—The renowned Peter G. Koch (no relation to the French writer of doubtful morality) was sentenced in the Circuit Court yesterday morning. Peter's inability to convince the Court that sentence should not be passed upon him, caused his transfer to the Hotel de Watkinds for one year.

OREGON SALMON.—Fish dealers at San Francisco take advantage of a few persons who deal in fresh Oregon salmon, to offer California salmon which are out of season there, and the sale of them subjects the seller to a severe penalty. Jas. Quinn in this city is sending fresh salmon on each steamer.

RE-ELECTED.—At a meeting recently held of the Directors of the Willamet Iron Works, the resignation of Mr. W. H. Dodd as Secretary of the Company was accepted, and Capt. P. Fittbeg, formerly occupying this position, was elected in his place.

NOT COMMENCED.—Operations have not been commenced yet on the Upper Columbia for the improvement of the channel of the river. Until such time as the water reaches a lower stage, work will be suspended.

AWAITING SHIPMENT.—Seven hundred bales of wool is now on the Steamship Company' dock awaiting shipment to San Francisco. Large quantities of this article are arriving from up and down the river.

CLEARING THE CHANNEL.—Last week operations were commenced by the snag puller on the upper Willamette river. Six men are at present engaged at a point a short distance below Corvallis.

PORTLAND YACHT CLUB SAILING RULES.

For the benefit of contestants at the Regatta, to come off on the Fourth, we publish the following rules which have been adopted by the above named club:

1. The length of a boat is measured from the fore part of the stem to the after part of the stern post, and the breadth at where it is greatest. Then, to three fourths of the length add two thirds of the breadth, the sum will be a length proportional to her size, and is the one used for allowance of time.

2. At a regatta, the allowance between boats of different length shall be eight seconds per foot for each mile of the distance to be sailed.

3. The start shall be under the supervision of the Commodore, and each yacht shall be at her station at the appointed time, with sails brailed up or furled.

4. During a race, only regular fore and aft sails shall be set. No ballast shall be discharged, nor any change be made in the number of persons on board. The use of oars shall not be allowed; nor poling, nor anchoring.

5. Yachts on the port tack must give way to those on the starboard tack, and when going free must get out of the way of those on a wind on either tack.

6. Any yacht touching a boat, mark, or buoy used to designate the course shall forfeit her claim to the prize.

7. A regatta which occupies more time than half an hour per mile of the distance sailed shall be declared void.

8. Should any objection arise from the action of a yacht during a race, it shall be made at once to the Regatta Committee, and the prize shall not be awarded until their decision is rendered.

19th—The Red Stockings, defeated the representative nine of Lowell, Mass., by a score of 61 to 6. The game between the Atlantics of Brooklyn and Washington club at Washington, resulted in a tie—18 to 18,—when the Atlantics left the field, refusing to play, thereby forfeiting the game.

Civil Service.

The Civil Service rules adopted by the Cabinet at Washington have just been promulgated. One of them reads as follows:

"For the purpose of bringing examinations for civil service as near to the residences of those desiring to be examined as the appropriation at the command of the President will warrant, and for the further purpose of facilitating as far as practicable the making of selections for each service equally for the several portions of the Union, while at the same time preserving the principle of promoting merit as tested by fair competition, it is provided that the States shall be grouped into five districts. The President will employ or designate a suitable person to be chief examiner, whose duty it will be, subject to the supervision of the Civil Service Commission, to promote uniformity in preparing for conducting, reporting and grading examinations by said boards at Washington, and to prepare for, attend, supervise and report the examinations herein provided to be held elsewhere than at Washington. The district examinations shall be held not more than twice in any one year in the same districts, except in Washington, where an examination may be held in respect of each department as frequently as the head of such department, subject to the approval of the President, may direct. And all persons so examined in Washington, wherever they may reside, shall be entered in the record of persons eligible for appointment, equally as if examined elsewhere."

ANNUAL REPORT.

Mr. T. L. Eliot, Superintendent of Public Schools for Multnomah county, filed yesterday his annual report of the financial condition of the schools during the past year, in the office of the County Clerk. The following is the report:

PORTLAND, June 28, 1872.

To the Hon. County Clerk of Multnomah County, Oregon: The undersigned, Superintendent of Public Schools for Multnomah county, begs leave to submit the following as his financial report for the year ending April 1:

The law, section 25, provides that such report shall be made before the 30th of June, and shall show the amount of moneys assessed and collected at county expense and applied to public schools, during the year ending the first Monday of April previous.

The assessments of 1872 amounted on the books to $17,597 20, being .002 per cent. on $8,798,600 worth of property. There remains in the County Treasury from the previous year and to the credit of the School Fund the sum of $5,915 07 coin and $115 currency.

The Treasurer of the county reported to this office March 14, 1873, as on hand and distributable, the sum of $9,601 43 coin and $203 21 currency.

This sum was distributed by me March 15th, [as per Schedule A.]

The receipts of the District Clerks for the amounts thus apportioned, have been returned to me by the Treasurer at our annual settlement.

On the 28th of May, the amount of interest accruing from the Irreducible Fund of the State, and credited to this county, was placed in the Treasurer's hands, being $2,353 05 coin and $966 71 currency.

This was distributed by me May 28th, [as per Schedule B.]

The receipts of the District Clerks for the amounts thus apportioned, were returned to me by the Treasurer at our annual settlement excepting six, which are indicated on the schedule, said orders not having been presented up to date.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. L. ELIOT,
Superintendent of Public Schools for Multnomah county.

A CARD.

My attention having been called to a communication in yesterday's OREGONIAN, signed "Reformer," in which gross errors occur, and does me great injustice, I take this method of replying, to the end that the public may be satisfied of the facts and not be deceived by rumors set afloat by my enemies.

I have resided in and been engaged in my present business at Portland since 1865, and during all that time no man has said aught against my business reputation or character. "Reformer" seems to hold me responsible not only for what occurs in my house, but also upon the street and in adjoining houses, which I submit is unjust and unfair. No person who knows me will say that I have courted a class of customers described by "Reformer" as murderers, thieves, &c., or have encouraged broils, but, on the contrary, will bear testimony that I have always endeavored to preserve peace and good order. Should "Reformer," the City Council or any person desire to investigate the matter, I shall be happy to give any information I possess as to the manner in which I carry on my business.

TRIBUTE TO A WIFE.—Following is the true text of the epitaph inscribed by John Stuart Mill on his wife's tombstone, in France:

IN MEMORIAM.

It is not my intention here to write an eulogy upon my wife, give a character of her particular virtues, or make any court to the sex by the flattery of a funeral sermon. She was, in a few words, the stay of all my affairs, the centre of all my enterprises, the engine that by her prudence reduced me to that happy compass I was in from the most extravagant projects that fluttered in my head. She did more to guide my rambling genius than a mother's tears, a father's instructions, a friend's counsel, or all my own reasoning powers could do. I was happy in listening to her entreaties and being moved by her tears, and to the last degree desolate and dislocated by the loss of her.

JOHN STUART MILL.

Don't grab at with shabby clothes while an opportunity is afforded you to obtain wearing apparel at only a nominal sum. You miss a splendid chance to get a suit of clothing cheap when you fail to call on J. Kohn & Co., 91 Front street, where the counters are crowded with the very latest styles. Twenty dollars will buy a fine outfit there.

BE WISE TO-DAY.—'Tis madness to neglect a cough or cold, however slight. Consumption may follow, and though Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has frequently cured this much dreaded disease, it almost invariably cures the primary disease of the throat, lungs and chest, where other remedies fail.

BUCHU.—The curative properties of this shrub in cases of dropsy, gravel, kidney diseases, and obscure disorders, are now well known to physicians. Dr. Helmbold originally popularized this medicine, and no other chemist has been able to extract its virtues with equal skill. Helmbold's Buchu is still the standard and genuine Extract. Patients and physicians prefer it. The genuine bears H. T. Helmbold's signature. All apothecaries sell it.

Sudden changes in the weather are productive of throat diseases, coughs and colds. There is no more effectual relief to be found than in the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches."

The system frequently gets out of order, and should be at once regulated, else other troubles will ensue. When physic is needed, take Parsons' Purgative Pills. They are a safe, wholesome and natural medicine.

Toothache proceeds from agues in the face, operating upon the exposed nerve of a decayed tooth. Rub the cheek thoroughly with the finger, wet with Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, heat the face well, and lay a flannel wet with the liniment on the face; also put a little liniment into the cavity of the tooth on cotton.

In the GOOD OLD Age [illegible] did not preserve the beauty of the teeth with SOZODONT, and then when the hair is silvered and the [illegible] with years, the mouth will still reveal [illegible] if SOZODONT be consulted every day.

Prison Torture.

The horrors of English prison life, as they are strongly pictured in Reade's "It is never too late to mend," do not exceed, if indeed they may equal the atrocious cruelties recited in the following:

At the Bail Court in London, before Mr. Justice Blackburn, Mr. Justice Quinn and Mr. Justice Archibald, the Attorney General and Mr. Brown appeared to show cause why a criminal information should not be filed against John Henry Parker Wilson, who is the medical officer of the convict prison at Woking, and late assistant surgeon in the convict prison, Milbank, and against Dr. John Burns, of the Chatham convict prison, for having cruelly ill-treated a French prisoner named Daniel Reading.

Reading's affidavit, which was read by Mr. Bowen, stated that he was, in November 1867, convicted at Manchester and sentenced to five years' penal servitude. In November, 1867, he was conveyed to the Milbank prison, where he remained until the 16th of July, 1868, when he was removed to Chatham, where he remained until March, 1872. In that month he was brought again to Milbank, and remained until the 5th of October, 1872, when he was discharged. During the first part of his confinement at Milbank he was placed under punishment and kept upon bread and water. On being brought back from Chatham to Milbank he was placed in the solitary cell in the infirmary. On the following morning the medical officer of the prison, accompanied by Mr. Wilson, went to see him, and commenced pricking his feet with needles. They continued to do so for about an hour, when Mr. Wilson caught hold of his foot and pulled him out of bed. He was then dragged into the surgery, where a galvanic battery was applied to different parts of the body, causing immense pain. Ropes were then tied around his legs and pulled alternately, making his legs move in imitation of walking. On the next day the treatment was repeated, when the pain was so great that he screamed out. A towel was thereupon rammed into his mouth, and he was then lifted up by two powerful men and let drop upon the bed. He was afterwards placed in a cold bath, and his head held under water by the warder's foot until he became insensible. When he recovered he found himself lying upon the floor. He was afterward dragged out by two men, when Mr. Wilson struck him in the stomach until he vomited, when he told the warders to wipe up the discharge with the prisoner's face. In August he was removed to the solitary cell, and kept there until September 8th, without a bed. He complained of this treatment to the doctor, who ordered his removal to other quarters. His limbs were paralyzed, and he was unable to walk without assistance, and therefore could not comply with the order.

The affidavits of the medical officers denied these cruelties, and, with the exception of Dr. Steele, they were of the opinion that the prisoner had feigned paralysis. Dr. Steele thought there were symptoms of paralysis in the lower limbs. The other officers swore that the prisoner was treated with kindness and courtesy.

Justice Blackburn discharged the motion, which decision was concurred in by Mr. Justice Quain and Mr. Justice Archibald. The ground of the decision was that there was no foundation for the statements as contained in the affidavit of the relator, when compared with the evidence of the prison officials.

The Liberal Republicans of New York, conspicuous during the last Presidential campaign, met in secret session yesterday, Colonel Frederick A. Conkling presiding, and listened to addresses by John Cochrane and others on the duties of the future.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We refer our readers to the advertisement in another column of the Marsh Truss Co., of San Francisco, an institution that has gained considerable reputation by their many remarkable cures of RUPTURE. This Co. is a branch of the celebrated House of Marsh & Co., New York, which has a reputation of nearly forty years and are endorsed by the Medical Faculty wherever they have established branches. We commend this Company to our Ruptured friends, feeling assured they will receive the only legitimate cure for Hernia (Rupture). This Company does not use any worthless washes called "curative compounds" that has never cured Rupture, and are calculated to deceive. Their office is at 513 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

Danger.

At this season the atmosphere is surcharged with the seeds of intermittents, remittents, rheumatism, pulmonary disorders, bilious complaints and the like. Persons whose nervous systems are relaxed are the first to succumb to these distempers. Brace up the physical energies, then, with this potential vegetable tonic. It is the most powerful recuperant which the botanic kingdom has ever yielded to patient research and experiment. Try it. The blindest disciple of the old medical dogmas will at least admit that a tonic and alterative, compounded of approved herbs, roots and barks, can do no harm, while the testimony of thousands invites a trial of its virtues. Vigor is the thing most needed in these cases as well as in dyspepsia and nervous affections, and Hostetter's Bitters is the safest, surest and most wholesome strengthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted.

FASHIONABLE NOTES.

Very large fans continue in fashion. They are of all patterns and prices. Cheap ones are most in favor, the ladies arguing that the rapid changes in fashion justify them in being economical "in keeping up with it."

New promenade costumes are made with very long over-skirts in front and at the back, and looped high up at the sides. Little or no trimming is used to save lace. They are very stylish, and, modistes say, will be generally in fashion next winter.

A perceptible change in the style of wearing the hair has taken place. It is not now so absurdly high as it was during the winter, and it is no longer "genteel" to part it on the side. False hair is slowly but surely being discarded, the ladies relying solely upon nature's gifts to beautify and adorn their heads.

Fashionable Christianity in London is growing to be very amusing. People are now invited to prayer-meetings precisely as they are invited to a social soiree or an evening party. The New Castle Chronicle prints, with the exception of names, dates and places, the following transcript of a card which it has received: "Mr. and Miss —— propose (D. V.) to hold a Bible-reading on —— evening, at half-past 7 o'clock, when the company of friends is requested. Subject—'Morning Dress.'"

The Worcester (Mass.) Spy says of General Butler's chances for the gubernatorial office of Massachusetts:

The notion that everybody in Massachusetts must give his whole attention for five or six months to prevent a man whom the people don't want from electing himself Governor, may be accepted in other parts of the country, but it will not prevail to any great extent here at home. The fact is, that General Butler's prospects are less favorable than they were two years ago. Many of those who were then his supporters are now undeceived as to his character, and permanently disaffected by his salary swindle; he will not this year have the temperance organization in his favor, and he has the burden of his previous defeat. We will not assume to predict the future, but we can assure all whom it may concern that Massachusetts is not prostrate at the feet of Gen. Butler.

COLEMAN'S Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medicinal qualities of the EUCALYPTUS Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medicinal utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.
It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.
This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U.S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various method of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 406 Kearney street, San Francisco.
COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies for those diseases are entirely avoided.

American Women's Worship of Titles.

"I became quite disgusted with the girls on our steamer," grumbled a young American who crossed the Atlantic in a month that shall be nameless. "There happened to be on board the son of an English baronet, and although he was an ordinary fellow, not half as nice as some of us, the girls vied with one another in attracting his attention." Is it not the same in Washington? Are not the of- ... of foreign legations, fools or otherwise, of more social consequence than the cleverest of natives? This is a fine return for the respect and devotion of American men. Always excepting advanced liberal Englishmen, there are no men for whom our women should entertain such regard as for those of this country. In Germany women are domestic animals and drudges; among the Latin races they minister to man's pleasure nothing more. It is the exceptional Frenchman or the Italian who believes in the virtue of women, yet knowing, if they choose to think, that no Frenchman and few Englishmen would marry a poor American, there are girls who actually tie themselves for life to men, with views regarding women that ought to be thoroughly revolting to all who have had the good fortune to be born in the New World. The folly of some of our women passes understanding. Fancy a mother who thinks it a greater "catch" for her daughter to marry a Prussian officer than to marry an American! "Well, you see he is a nobleman," argues the mother to an indignant friend. "Suppose he is noble, what then? Is he not poor and a foreigner? Would he marry your daughter if she were not rich?" "No, it is against the law. All Prussian officers must marry women with money." "And you encourage your daughter to give up her country and home to become the wife of a man for whom, were she penniless, she would have no attraction. She will settle down in a wretched provincial town while her husband will go wherever he is ordered. For society she will have the insane gossip of German women, who are good housekeepers, but are very narrow-minded and fearful scandalmongers. An occasional trip to Berlin and appearance at court will vary the scene. And you call this a brilliant parti! Do you realize that your daughter has always been considered the equal of men and is accustomed to such attention as she will never receive from Teutons." "I never looked at the matter in that light," replies the foolish mother." After all, the match does not seem as eligible as I thought, and perhaps my daughter will change her mind." With such a mother can she have any mind to change? German officers are indeed fine "catches." They belong to "noble" families, and, being in the army, are attached to the Court. The majority are genteel paupers, but are not permitted to marry rich German girls whose families are "in trade," as such would be mesalliances; yet they will wed any American girl with money, though every dollar smell of the shop. Self-respect ought to prevent our women from thus stultifying themselves; but the longer one lives the more one becomes persuaded that nothing is rarer than common sense. As the prevailing governments of the Old World are more or less despotic and thoroughly aristocratic, they look with no love upon a Republic whose success is a menace to divine right and the degrading spirit of caste. Singularly ignorant of all that concerns us, not thinking it worth while to study either people or institutions, all their traditions and prejudices are opposed to us, and they are best pleased when individual examples confirm previous opinions.—N. Y. Herald.

Phœnicians in Brazil.

A recent remarkable discovery in Brazil revives the interest in the "Cardiff Giant" controversy. It was claimed by a writer in the Galaxy, who supported his theory with great learning and ingenuity, that some marks on an arm of the statue were Phœnician letters, forming an inscription, and thus proving the statue to be of Phœnician origin. The late Prof. Hadley, one of the few men in the country whose opinion on such a subject was of any value, considered that the matter ought to be thoroughly investigated. Some six months ago, a Brazilian nobleman, high in the service of his government, received a letter from a planter of Parahyba, inclosing a copy made by the writer's young son of certain strange characters found upon a stone which some of the farm hands had accidentally plowed up. The document was handed over to the Brazilian historical society, and by that body given to a learned scholar, the director of the Rio museum. He at once pronounced the characters to be Phœnician, and set to work to master them. Phœnician is a tongue in which but few men are learned. Procuring the necessary text books, he examined some fifty of the Phœnician inscriptions which have been deciphered. After several months study he writes: "I have been able to interpret this inscription with such good fortune that only two or three have proved beyond my powers." There have been some evident mistakes, he says, in copying the inscription, and so he declines making any official report till he has seen the stone itself. Trickery in such matter is all but impossible, for there are not more than half a dozen men in Europe who could have forged the inscription. There are eight lines in all, and they are a record of the wanderings of a band of Phœnicians, who describe themselves as having set out from a port in the Red Sea, in the ninth or tenth year of King Hiram, and as having sailed for a certain number of new moons—the director guesses twelve, but is not quite sure yet—along the Egyptian (African) coast; they mention the number of their vessels and of the men and women on board, and piously invoke all the gods and goddesses, in the familiar Phœnician formula. He accounts for the presence of the Phœnicians in Brazil as follows: "I gather that the same thing happened to our Sidonians that happened to Pedro Alvares Cabral, 2,000 years later, when, knowing nothing of Brazil, he found himself unexpectedly off its shores. The only difference is that Cabral sailed from north to south, while the Phœnicians voyaged from south to north. Like Cabral, in fleeing from the storms reigning from the Cape of Good Hope up to near Senegambia, they steered into the high sea, and, seized by the famous equatorial current, which sometimes flows with extraordinary swiftness, they unexpectedly came upon the Brazilian shores." This theory is more than reasonable, and it now only remains for the learned Brazilian to examine the stone itself. If that exists, he will have proved his case, and at the same time done much to invest the "Cardiff Giant" with the dignified origin claimed for him.

JUPITER NODS.—The Times has just fallen into one of the most amusing blunders in the long catalogue of journalistic slips. It is well known to all the world that when eminent persons become ill, prudent editors set their ready writers to work and prepare their biographies. Of course, when his Holiness the Pope was ill, a few days ago, the English journalists looked up Maguire and the other authorities, and prepared their biographies of the great Pontiff who now tills the chair of St. Peter. But the Pope disappointed the ready writers; he insisted on getting well, and will, it is hoped, continue to rule over the Church for many a year to come. The editor of the Times found on his hands a long biography of his Holiness, and being, like Mrs. Gilpin in the ballad, "of a frugal mind," he determined to "use up" this contribution. Accordingly the article, with a word here and there altered to make it read, was inserted the other day, appropos of the Pope's 82d birthday. "The funeral baked meats did coldly furnish forth the marriage table." Unfortunately for the Times, one sentence escaped the eye of the adapter, and in the article we read: "From his (the Pope's) return to Rome up to the day of his death he may have been said to have been in permanent antagonism to Italian nationality." A worse case of being found out we do not remember.

WESTERN EDITORIAL LIFE.—The editors of the far Western weeklies are not deprived of all that makes life endurable, as one would suppose from the looks of their sheets. The editor of the Record, an Arizona paper, has now on his table two invitations to act as second in a duel, an invite to an Indian hunting raid, a pair of bear-skin pants presented by a hunter, a three-pound silver nugget, a free pass on a stage route, two lottery tickets, three Apache scalps, a call to act as Postmaster and Justice of the Peace, and twenty-seven dollars' worth of faro chips.—Detroit Free Press.

Horrible Murder.

AN OLD MAN DRAGGED FROM THE CARS AND KILLED.

The Laramie Independent of Monday, June 25th, gives the following account of a murder that came near being concealed:

It has at last come to light that a most foul murder was committed on the night of the 22d of May, on the Union Pacific Railroad, about seven miles this side of Rock Springs, at a side track called Baxter. The victim was an old man named S. M. Ferguson, of about seventy, who had on him over a thousand dollars. The first inkling of the deed given the public was a dispatch of the 31st ultimo, stating that Ferguson had probably fallen from the cars and been killed, and that his baggage was put off at Laramie. This led to an investigation by the relatives, which has established the fact that the old man was murdered by two ruffians who were put off the cars at Baxter. The brakemen had experienced some difficulty in ejecting the roughs who insisted on riding without paying their fare. The train was standing on the side track awaiting a Western bound train. Mr. Heath, the conductor, says that he had got on the main track and was started up, when the bell cord was pulled. The brakemen did not know who did it. Nothing appearing to be the matter, they moved out. The passengers said they heard a shriek, but supposed it was the two roughs yelling, as they had been very loud and vociferous during the melee. Ferguson had been walking up and down the aisle of the car while the train was standing still and it is thought stepped out on the platform. At all events, he was not seen afterward. Mr. Heath noticed his absence in the morning, and not finding him on the train, had his baggage, overcoat, etc., put off at this place. Nine days afterward it was reported that the missing man had met his death by falling from the cars. A son-in-law in Chicago and another son-in-law and a son in California, at once started out to ferret out the facts. The last two gentlemen reached Baxter last Monday and made unavailing search for the body. Last evening they arrived at Laramie, and are pursuing the murderers, whom they have traced along from place to place. On this point it is not best to say more at present, except that the description given by different persons along the road, of the suspected parties is that of the dead beats who were put off the cars, and that there are peculiar circumstances which mark them as the parties who murdered and robbed the old man.

Charles Algernon Swinburne is now reported to be a victim of opium. He found brandy too mild.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

TUESDAY EVENING, July 1, 1873.

Gold in New York to-day, 115⅞.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 85½ buying; 86½ selling.

Gold bars are quotable at 800 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California, 11s 11d@11s 12d; club, 12s 3d, 12s 6d.

Latest mail advices from New York report that market as being abundantly supplied with money at easy rates, three and five per cent, with the probability of a continuance throughout the summer, or, at least, until the setting in of the usual excessive fall requirements.

The New York Bulletin has published a table of the coin and bullion in the five leading national banks of Europe, by which it appears that at a late date the aggregate amount was $529,000,000, in round numbers, showing an increase of about $71,500,000 over the same date last year. It then arrives at the following conclusions: "First, that it is fallacious to attribute the late derangements in the European money markets to any scarcity of the precious metals, or any withholding of them from general use through the indemnity payments of France, or the coinage operations of Germany; and, second, that it is useless to hope for any future relief arising from the German Government putting into circulation a large amount of now hoarded gold, that gold being already, in all probability, in the Bank of Prussia as the chief part of its reserve." These deductions are clearly erroneous. Since the enormous financial penalties imposed on France by Germany, all the national banks of Europe have been hoarding the precious metals as a means of precaution and self-preservation, and the amount now held by them is greatly in excess of any former precedent, and consequently withheld from general circulation, which has been decreased in exact proportion to the amount hoarded. It is admitted that the German Government has been very active in amassing gold, to make a change in its coinage, and the gold so obtained, as well as much of the old coinage, has been retained from circulation; is it not clear, then, that the restoration of that gold in the shape of new coin must give great relief.

Heavy Fleeces.

We have always believed that in the matter of wool-growing, Oregon was the peer of any State in the Union. The Chicago Journal of Commerce notes as the heaviest fleece reported this season, one weighing 20 pounds, clipped from a sheep of the Hammond breed in Michigan. We have heard of several fleeces sheared in Oregon this spring as heavy, and only last week mentioned the fact that Mr. Steen, of Umatilla county, had sheared three fleeces which weighed 65 pounds, the heaviest being 23¼ pounds. So Oregon is materially ahead in the matter of large fleeces.

European Wool Market.

We clip from the New York Bulletin as follows:

"BRESLAU, May 23, 1873.—Some further orders having been received from Saxony and Rhenish Prussia, sales have summed up 800 cwts the past week, two-thirds of which were Hungarian, the balance domestic, at 70 thalers and upward, and for these previous rates have on the whole been maintained.

"On estates in our neighborhood quite an extensive business has already been transacted in wool of the new clip, and Breslau dealers have purchased several thousand cwts, mostly medium quality, between 60 and 70 thalers, the rates being in part the same as in June, 1872, and partly a couple of thalers cheaper. Several of these lots are already in store in our city and prove of most satisfactory quality."

Liverpool wool market from the London Economist:

"LIVERPOOL, May 30.—The catalogue of the miscellaneous wool auctions held here from the 27th to the 30th ult., comprised 24,559 bales, more than one-half of which consisting of Levant and River Plate wools. The attendance of buyers has been fair throughout, and about one-third of the quantity offered has been disposed of. Clean wools of common quality sold slightly in favor of buyers; unwashed wools were much neglected; for River Plate wools, however, there was fair demand at prices on a par with those lately realized by private contract."

The London Times of June 2 thus alludes to the conclusion of the second series of London wool auctions:

"The second series of wool sales for the current year, which opened on the 24th ult., terminated this day. The arrivals in time for sale were 210,432 bales, and the quantities catalogued were: Sydney, 29,406 bales; Port Phillip, 80 823 bales; Adelaide, 33,238 bales; Swan River, 1,296 bales; Van Dieman's Land 5,735 bales; New Zealand, 25,519 bales; Cape, 25,923 bales; total, 204,940 bales. Of the former total, some 15,000 bales, chiefly Capes, were forwarded direct to other destinations, while the latter includes several parcels which have been twice catalogued."

Grain in Store and Afloat.

Chicago elevators at the commencement of business, June 19th, contained 6,273,651 bushels of grain, embracing 408,740 bushels of wheat, 4,642,198 bushels of corn, 1,622,020 bushels of oats, 145,554 bushels of rye, and 55,129 bushels of barley. The amount of all grades in store the week before was 6,350,519 bushels, and for the corresponding week in 1872, 7,081,754 bushels.

The amount of grain in Milwaukee at the same date was 289,576 bushels of wheat, 280,303 bushels of corn, 66,195 bushels of oats, 112,548 bushels of rye and 14 460 bushels of barley.

The stock of grain in New York was 174,065 bushels of wheat, 621,195 bushels of corn, 306,000 bushels of oats, 16,493 bushels of rye, and 13,852 bushels of barley.

The amount of grain afloat on the New York canals at the same time, is estimated at 1,000,000 bushels of wheat, 678,000 bushels of corn, 250,000 bushels of oats and 62,-036 bushels of rye.

The amount of grain "in sight" in the States and Canada June 17th was 19,173,423 bushels, embracing 6,002,435 bushels of wheat, 8,713,753 bushels of corn, 4,267,850 bushels of oats and 219,394 bushels of barley.

Home Produce Market.

Business of the week, so far, under this head, has been quite dull, except in the wool market, where there is some activity manifested, buyers feeling their way with a good deal of caution, and holders likewise watching events with great interest. The receipts of wool, so far this season, have been largely from Eastern Oregon, and we are informed that many lots coming from that section of our State are of a very superior quality, the staple being long, fine and free from impurities. Most of this is taken freely at 20@23 cents per pound. Wool growers up the Valley seem more backward in selling, and still claim that prices must advance to 28 cents, which we trust they may realize. We notice a sale of 118 bales of Eastern Oregon, to day, on private terms.

The wheat market is apparently at a stand still for the present, buyers offering $1 50 per cental, with very light receipts. Oats are still coming to hand in small lots, selling at 50 cents per bushel, including sacks. Other products are unchanged.

NATIONAL BANK OF PORTLAND.
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

THIS BANK HAS ESTABLISHED IN CONNECTION with the general Banking business a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT, and will allow Interest on Coin Deposits made in accordance with the conditions adopted by the Association.

In establishing a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT this Banking Association has in view the benefits to accrue to a class of persons having small sums to loan, by providing a safe place of deposit, ample security and fair rate of interest, as well as to aggregate and bring into use idle capital.

For the safety of deposits in this Bank are pledged its entire capital and resources, and also the personal liability of its Directors and Stockholders, as provided by Section 12 of the National Currency Act, approved June 3, 1864, a greater security than that given by ordinary Savings Banks. Printed copies of the conditions upon which deposits are received may be had upon application at the Bank.

THE ABOVE ESTABLISHMENT HAS BEEN opened for the treatment of all Chronic and Private Diseases, in males as well as females, where all who are suffering from any of those dreadful ailments can find relief.

Young men having weakened or injured their constitutions by secret habits, need have no fear in calling and consulting me, as all communications are strictly confidential, and sure of a permanent cure where treatment is followed.

Special attention given to the treatment of strictures, and to all who are suffering from such, I can warrant a cure.

Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Piles, Dropsy, Cancers, and all other ailments successfully treated.

To ladies who are dragging out a life of misery, on account of debility, sterility, menstruation, and many other diseases peculiar to the sex, can find relief by calling.

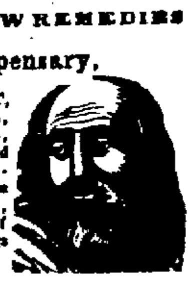
The celebrated FEMALE REGULATOR PILLS sent free by mail to any address on receipt of $5 00 per box. Certain and safe in all cases.

Office consultation free of charge. All communications strictly confidential. Office hours, 11 A. M. to 4 P. M., and 7 to 8 P. M. DR. C. G. GLASS.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate ..., without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the faces, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in a registered letter through the Post office or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. je4d4pt
